

Library E-Resources

As the Movement Control Order (MCO) is now going into the fourth phase, online classes are the new normal and will continue for some time. This has caused some trouble for the students to search for needed information.

Usually, they can just head to the Library and browse thousands of books that can be used for their online classes.

So how can they solve this?

NEED HELP

WITH YOUR ONLINE CLASSES?

UCSI Library E-Resources makes it easy for students to access large number of resources in the safety of their home/hostel. We provide multi-access to a large number of websites where students can search any information or material to help them with their classes. These resources contain various information from multiple fields that combines mixed media such as videos, images, audio and animations.
